How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like pain of functional monthly distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Takes like a tonic. It should stimulate appetite, aid digestion. Thus help build up strength for the days to come.

2 Started 3 days before your period, Cardui should help relieve pain due to functional periodic distress.

Try Cardui. If it helps you as it has helped many others, you'll be glad you did.

"I'd like to suggest a fourth 'R'"

"'Readin' and 'ritin' and 'rithmetic' were about all that children learned in the days of the little red schoolhouse. Today, of course, we cover a lot more ground. And classroom projects on transportation form so important a part of our studies these days that this fourth 'R' of mine would stand for Railroads.

"Our young people have learned that the railroads are an essential partner in the business of living . . . because only the railroads have the enormous carrying capacity required to transport most of the food the children eat, the clothes they wear, and the things they need and use every day.

"Yes, 'R' for Railroads means a real partnership — one which has been firmly interwoven into the whole pattern of our American life."

The partnership of the American railroads with the American people reaches deep down into thousands of towns and villages all over the nation, for the railroads are a home-town partner in every community they serve. They employ local people, buy supplies locally, own local property and pay local taxes on it.

These railroad taxes are the same kind as those you pay. They are not spent on railroad tracks or stations, but help support local public services of all sorts, including public health, fire and police protection, highways, and public schools.

Last year railroad taxes alone paid for the education of more than a million children throughout the United States.

•

And Norfolk and Western taxes paid for the schooling of thousands of boys and girls who live in the railway's territory in Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, North Carolina, Maryland and Kentucky.

Specialist Would Tattoo Baby When It Is Born

LONDON, ENGLAND. — C. Hamblen-Thomas, a Harley street specialist, proposed in the British Medical Journal recently that a national identity number should be tattooed on the buttock of each baby at birth.

He recommended the right buttock for males and the left for females. He said nobody could lose or change his number.

The number, he said, would be "in a position easy for reference and yet sufficiently private."

Soil District Elections

The first soil conservation district to be organized in Virginia was issued a certificate of organization December 16, 1938. Since that date 22 soil conservation districts embracing 86 counties have been organized by landowners of the state.

Although Virginia District's are receiving assistance from several state and federal agencies, the administration of district remains a function of local people. A board of five supervisors are provided for in the Virginia Soil Conservation Districts law to administer the affairs of each district. Three members of this board are selected by the qualified voters of the districts with the other two members being appointed by the State Soil Conservation Committee.

On November 7, qualified voters of the Robert E. Lee Soil Conservation District Appomattox, Campbell, Buckingham, Cumberland and Amherst, excluding the incorporated towns) will elect three supervisors as prescribed under the districts law. The State Soil Conservation Committee will receive petitions from candidates desiring to offer themselves for this position until August 26.

His Farm Fields Are Factories

U. S. FARMERS have made our fields into factories.

We live better than people in other countries because our farmers get more out of the soil.

The steel industry takes pride in the way it has helped bring about this improvement in farm practice. Tools of steel—from the plow-share to the giant combine—have multiplied in number and increased vastly in quality.

Fifty years ago the typical farm in America used about 3 tons of steel. Today the figure is nearer 17½ tons.

That is a measure of the modernization of agriculture and an indication of the interdependence of steel and farming.

We no longer have separate "farm production problems" or "industrial production problems." We have but one set of problems for everybody.

If strikes, for instance, restrict the supply of farm implements and supplies through work stoppages, or make their cost prohibitive, America is out of gear.

Anything which tends in this direction is bad for the farmer—and finally for everybody. Farmers know it. Everybody else should know it.

* * *

Steel mills need all the scrap iron and steel they can get. The shortage is serious. Farmers can get extra dollars and help increase steel output by sending worn-out machinery, etc., on its way to the furnaces. AMERICAN IRON AND STEEL INSTITUTE, 350 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, N. Y.
